Text 1: Volunteering at the Animal Shelter

1 Every Friday morning, fourteen-year-old Shira volunteers at an animal shelter near her town. The shelter takes care of dogs and cats that have no home.

2 Shira feeds the animals, cleans their cages and takes the dogs for walks. "At first, some of the dogs were afraid of me," she says, "but now they run to me when I arrive."

3 The shelter also helps the animals find new families. People can visit, meet the animals and adopt one. Last month, a family adopted Bobby, an old dog that Shira loved very much. "I was sad to say goodbye," she says, "but I was happy that he finally has a home."

1. The shelter takes care of animals that...

   a. are sick b. have no home

   c. are very old d. live on farms

2. Write TWO things Shira does at the shelter.

   _____

3. How did some dogs feel about Shira at first?

   _____

4. Why did Shira feel both sad and happy about Bobby?

   _____

Text 2: The History of the Bicycle

1 The first bicycle was built in Germany in 1817. It was made of wood and had no pedals. To move, the rider pushed the ground with his feet.

2 About fifty years later, people added pedals to the front wheel. These bicycles were faster, but they were also very uncomfortable. Some of them had a huge front wheel and a tiny back wheel, so falling off was easy.

3 The bicycle we know today, with two wheels of the same size and a chain, appeared in the 1880s. Today, there are more than one billion bicycles in the world, and many cities build special lanes for them.

1. The first bicycle…

   a. had pedals b. was made of metal

   c. had no pedals d. was built in 1880

2. True or False? The bicycles with pedals on the front wheel were very comfortable. T / F

3. Why was it easy to fall off some of the old bicycles?

   _____

4. What do many cities build today?

Text 3: A Night in the Desert

1 Last spring, my class went on a two-day trip to the Negev desert. On the first day, we hiked for five hours. It was very hot, so our guide told us to drink water every half hour.

2 In the evening, we put up tents and made a fire. We cooked dinner and sang songs. Then the guide asked us to turn off our flashlights and look up. I couldn't believe my eyes. There were thousands of stars in the sky, much more than I can see in the city.

3 That night, I didn't sleep much because it was cold, but I will never forget that sky.

1. How long did the class hike on the first day?

   a. two hours b. half an hour
   c. five hours d. two days

2. Why did the guide tell the students to drink water often?

   _____

3. Copy the sentence that shows the writer was surprised.

4. Why didn't the writer sleep much?
